

How to markdown

Markdown is a simple kind of text document that can be parsed to create a formatted document.

Markdown should be edited in a standard text editor like gedit.

Paragraphs can be made by inserting a double line break.

- Bullet points can be made by starting lines with an asterix.
- See cheatsheet for how to do more.

Allocation of Subjects

Owen:

- Definition of Quality
- Six Sigma
- Relationship Between Quality and Reliability

Kahtan:

- Impact of Quality on Cycle Time and Cost
- ISO 9000
- Check Sheets

Ivo:

- Pareto
- Fishbone/Ishikawa Diagrams
- Cause Screening

Blake:

- Teamwork
- Multi-voting
- Statistical Process Control

Helen:

- Taguchi
- Design of Experiments
- Software Improvement Tools